10 Taste of Daegu

Naipjak Mandu
Naipjak Mandu originated as a thin-skinned dumpling with minimal filling, typically served with soy sauce, sliced onions, and red chili powder. The dumpling itself is quite mild in flavor.

Spicy Catfish Stew
Spicy Catfish Stew is a Daegu-style dish made by simmering catfish with various vegetables, garlic, and red chili powder. The spice level is perfectly balanced—not overpowering.

Nureunguksu
Nureunguksu is a nickname for Gyeongseong-do-style noodle soup. Made solely with a rich anchovy broth, it offers a clean and refreshing aftertaste.

Ttaengjukbap (Daegu Spicy Beef Soup)
Ttaengjukbap (Rice and Soup) is a spicy beef and rice soup made with red chili oil and seasonings. During the Korean War, refugees from across the country popularized the practice of ordering rice and soup separately, which is how the dish got its name.

Grilled Beef Reed Tripe
Grilled Beef Reed Tripe, once used mainly in stews, evolved into a grilled dish dipped in special soybean paste sauce and cooked over charcoal in the 1970s, eventually spreading throughout the Daegu region.

Spicy Raw Fish Salad
Spicy Raw Fish Salad, a variation on traditional raw fish, is made on the spot by tossing squid, conch, eel, julienned radish, and water celery with red chili powder, garlic, and ginger in a sweet-and-sour style.

Sliced Raw Bottom Round Steak
Daegu-style Sliced Raw Bottom Round Steak gets its name from a Gyeongseong-do dialect term referring to raw beef sliced about half a thumb in size. It's enjoyed with a dipping sauce made from sesame oil, garlic, and red chili powder.

Puffer Fish Bulgogi
Puffer Fish Bulgogi, stir-fried with spicy seasoning, bean sprouts, onions, and green onions, combines the crunch of bean sprouts with the tender meat of puffer fish, delivering a clean, subtly sweet umami in every bite.

Yaki Udon
Yaki Udon is a dry noodle dish, stir-fried over high heat with seafood, a pile of vegetables, and a seasoning of fine red chili powder and garlic.

This village features a clear area with vegetables growing at the top of the mountain area above sea level of 700m. The surrounding area, seen from the village observatory, offers a spectacular scenery. Haengseongseong Fortresses, located at the bottom of the village, started to be built in 1709 at the 35th year of King Sukjong's reign to protect the village from the Japanese invaders. However, it could not be completed due to the severe famine during the construction.
