Daejeon Haneul Park

With its "Rainbow Project" selected as a city regeneration project in 2008, the park became the venue for an art program to build structures and paint murals, turning into a mural village. On top of the hill in particular is an exotic windmill observatory where you can enjoy the nightscape of downtown.

Temiorae

(Historic Chungcheongnam-do governor's residence)

It was established in 1932 when the Chungcheongnam-do government complex moved from Gongju, Chungcheongnam-do to Daejeon. Used as a temporary residence for President Syngman Rhee, who took refuge in Daejeon during the Korean War, it was also the place where the special announcement was made on June 27, 1950. As one of the sites that went through the turbulence of Korea's modern history, it became open to the public with the new name "Temiorae" following total renovation and repair.

Daejeon Modern History Exhibition Hall

(Historic Chungcheongnam-do Provincial Government Office Building)

It is the oldest among the modern office buildings preserved in Daejeon. Built in 1932, it was used as the provincial government office building for 80 years before the government was moved to Naepo New Town. It is now used as the Daejeon Modern History Exhibition Hall. As a historic symbol, it has also been used as a filming site of films and TV series such as The Attorney and Mr. Sunshine.

Ihyeon-dong Dume Village

(Colorful Pumpkin Village)

The mountain behind the village has been called "Baesan," which means "pumpkin mountain," as it looks like a round, broad pumpkin. The name of the village, "Ihyeon," was named after Baegoe, the hill that connects to the mountain and means "pumpkin hill." The village has been recently called Dume Village as well. It is a beautiful, clean village near Gyeoksan Mountain and Daechongho Lake that offers the warm and friendly ambience associated with Korean farming villages.

Daejeon O-World

Another world to enjoy nature downtown. The largest theme park in the central and southern parts of Korea, Daejeon O-World is a complex composed of Zoo Land, Flower Land, Joy Land, Bird Land, and Night Universe where you can have fun with the whole family. Never miss Night Universe. The park shows a magical transformation at night.

Yuseong Hot Springs

The oldest among 116 spas in Korea, Yuseong Hot Springs boasts of its unparalleled richness and the largest number of visitors. Its low alkaline simple spring is silky-smooth and non-irritating to skin with a balanced amount of metal minerals such as zinc and iron and cations.

Hanbat Arboretum

Hanbat Arboretum is one of the largest man-made urban arboreta in Korea. It is a space for preserving the genes of diverse plants, a venue for adolescents' nature experience, and a spot for citizens' unwinding and relaxation. It is largely divided into three areas: East Garden, West Garden, and Tropical Garden. It offers a forest expounder program on a reservation basis.

Gyeoksan Mountain Red Clay Trail

The 14.5-km forest trail of Gyeoksan Mountain was covered with 20,000 tons of red clay, turning into a red clay trail. Here, you can enjoy bare-foot walking from spring to autumn. Feeling the soft red clay with the soles of your feet will be like getting a relaxing body massage. Forest bathing is a bonus.

Jangtaesan Recreational Forest

It is a recreational forest where you can enjoy forest bathing amid exotic scenery formed by the native trees of Jangtaesan Mountain, such as chestnut trees, nut pines, ginkgos, pines, hardy rubber trees, and foreign trees such as metasequoia from the United States and spruce from Germany.

Dongchundang House

Dongchundang House, Treasure No. 209, Song Jun-gil who was a scholar in the Joseon dynasty. He named this house after his pen name. As part of the Land Development Project in Songchon-dong, a yard, a pond, and a pavilion were constructed near the place to form Dongchundang Park as a whole. Excluding the winter season (January and December), free guide service is provided by a culture guide every day.

Expo Science Park

The Daejeon Expo Science Park is a theme park to commemorate the successful holding of Daejeon International Exposition held in the city in 1993. It consists of the Daejeon Expo Commemorative Center, World Expo Souvenirs Museum, and Advanced Science Museum and holds a variety of events all year round. Hanbit Tower, its symbolic tower, is where you can see the major areas of Daejeon from up high.
